About the Programme

The Joint Master in EU Trade and Climate Diplomacy (EUDIPLO) offered by CIFE in Berlin and Nice and the School of Government at Luiss Guido Carli in Rome provides the necessary analytical and negotiation skills through evidence-based studies and practical project work in the three major topics of the programme: Sustainability & Climate, Trade & Investment, Digital Cooperation.

The Master is taught by renowned researchers and experienced professionals who combine second to none practical expertise and academic credentials. It comprises on-site teaching, case studies, workshops, applied professional skills, a research thesis and a study trip to European institutions and think tanks in Brussels.

Learn to lead and represent the EU's New Diplomacy

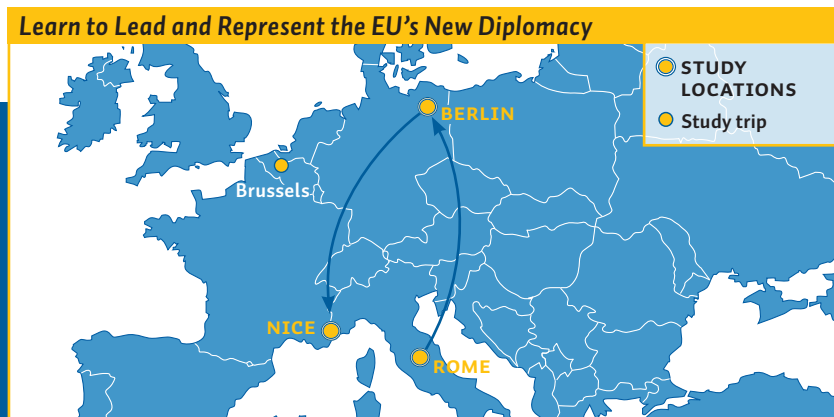

Learn how the EU:

- leads by example, through the European Green Deal;
- sets standards for Artificial Intelligence and digital cooperation across global value chains;
- uses diplomacy, trade and development cooperation to advance Sustainable Development Goals.

Live and study in three cities in one year: ROME BERLIN NICE

60 ECTS

Overview of the Academic Year

TERM 1 October to January

The programme starts in Rome, on the campus of Luiss School of Government. Courses will give an introduction to EU Governance, focusing on the context and challenges of European Foreign Action and policy in the 21st century.

TERM 2 February to April

The programme continues in Berlin, in the CIFE premises. Teaching will concentrate on EU Climate Diplomacy and its ambition to be climate leaders in the context of the EU's Green Deal. A study trip to a diplomatic hub such as Brussels gives insight knowledge into EU Diplomacy and interaction with high-level lecturers, experts and diplomats.

TERM 3 April to June

Courses conclude in Nice, on CIFE's main site. A special focus will be laid on EU Trade & Investment Diplomacy. Students will attend courses on trade diplomacy, external investment for SDGs, AI, big data and digitalised governance and innovative forms of collaborative action. Throughout the year, students will participate in policy laboratories and write their Master thesis.

Joint Master in EU Trade and Climate Diplomacy

Graduates are encouraged to apply for an internship. This facilitates their entry into the job market and allows them to benefit from a network of national and international government officials, private sector representatives and leading academics.

Federico Bonadonna Italy, EUDIPLO 2022/23
Administrative Agent, DG NEAR, European Commission

I owe a significant part of my current professional position to the EUDIPLO course. This Master guarantees a truly transformative educational journey, combining the practitioners' cross-cutting expertise with the experience of living in three different European cities. If you take advantage of all the opportunities that it provides, EUDIPLO is the best choice for a European/international career.

Ella Berger France, EUDIPLO 2022/23

The EUDIPLO Master allowed me to understand and acknowledge the impact and the extent of the policies of the European Union. The Brussels trip was the cherry on top of the cake to fully picture the functioning and the environment around the EU institutions.
