ACTIVITY REPORT 2021

European and International Studies

Preface

CIFE occupies a unique place in the landscape of international higher education, as we are offering a distinctly European brand of academic teaching. In 2021, our programmes assembled students from more than 60 countries, who not only studied the European Union, but also lived it by discovering cities like Nice, Berlin, Brussels, Rome, Canterbury, Tunis, and Istanbul. The ambition of our courses is not only to deliver knowledge, but to help the students to acquire the skills and competences needed in the job market of European and international institutions. The French state has honoured this effort by recognising the CIFE's Master-level (EQF level 7) qualification of "Policy Officer in European and International Organisations". Shorter seminars, evening courses, policy dialogue, research and publications complement the programme offer by CIFE. Some of the topics of the courses are chosen among the key priorities of the European Commission, like tackling climate change, managing energy transition, strengthening the EU as an actor in its neighbourhood.

2021 was a highly successful year, as it saw the first implementation of a new Master programme, the "Joint Master in European Trade and Climate Diplomacy", organised as a Joint degree with the LUISS School of Government in Rome. The number of students enrolled in CIFE's Master programmes is continuously increasing and has reached, for the academic year of 2021/22, the record number of 152 students. In the whole year of 2021, taking together the academic years of 2020/21 and 2021/22, 278 students have enrolled in our programmes.

Evidently, the work of CIFE in 2021 was strongly impacted by the COVID-19 pandemic, as from January to May 2021, almost all courses were delivered online. However, the academic substance of the programmes remained unaltered, and our participants were highly satisfied with their academic experience, regardless of the adverse circumstances.

Master in Advanced European and International Studies

European Policy and Governance – Trilingual Studies

NICE CANTERBURY BERLIN

PARTNER INSTITUTION University of Kent, Canterbury, UK

WORKING LANGUAGES English, French, German

About the Programme

The European Policy and Governance – Trilingual Studies programme of CIFE's Master in Advanced European and International Studies (MAEIS) seeks to address the next generation of European decision-makers and aims to prepare students for professional life in a challenging context. The academic curriculum has been designed to enable students to develop an overarching and all-encompassing understanding of the political, social, economic and cultural challenges of today's world with a particular focus on the European Union.

The Master addresses issues related to EU structures, processes and policies. Key topics are the institutional architecture and policymaking, the history of EU integration, core EU policies such as enlargement, justice and home affairs, the Single Market, and the EU's external relations and neighbourhood policy. The lectures and seminars are supplemented by a significant number of professional skills workshops, for instance on EU policy-tracking, negotiation skills and project cycle management. Following the leitmotif "Learning and Living Europe", the students rotate between the three study locations Nice, Canterbury and Berlin.

Due to the pandemic, in 2021 the students were not able to move to Canterbury and spent the trimester in Nice instead. During this trimester all courses were offered online.

Teaching Modules

- The EU in a Multipolar World
- Policy-Making in the EU
- Democracy, Federalism and Governance
- Economic and Monetary Integration
- Professional Skills Workshops

Highlights in 2021

- An EU Council simulation on "The Future of Europe", addressing 1) the forming of an EU Social Policy, 2) the re-designing of an EU Migration Policy, and 3) the reforming of the EU Institutions.
- Virtual visits and briefings to European institutions in March, April and May 2021, among them a presentation on the Venice Commission of the Council of Europe, a briefing on the post-Brexit EU-UK Relationship by representatives of the European Council, and a briefing on "The European Commission in the 2020s: Which Changes, Which Challenges?"
- Extracurricular Visits in Berlin, such as to the German Parliament (Bundestag) in April 2021, the German Spy Museum and the GDR Museum in June 2021
- Participation in an online debate with CIFE Honorary President Jean-Claude Juncker and CIFE President Herman Van Rompuy on Major European events. Watch the recording of the debate.

About the Programme

The European Integration and Global Studies programme seeks to educate the next generation of European decision-makers and aims to prepare students for professional life in a challenging context. The academic curriculum is designed in order to enable students to develop an overarching and all-encompassing understanding of internal and external EU policies and to gain a deep understanding of the role of the European Union in an ever more complex world.

The Master addresses issues related to how the EU interacts with other global actors in a multipolar international system. Key topics were the history of conflicts in international relations with a regional accent on conflicts in the Middle East and the Balkans, and a special focus on international regimes and successful interstate cooperation, current challenges for the European Union with a special focus on the role of the EU in international politics, key European integration issues such as political cooperation, democratic representation, minority issues and economic coordination analysed through the lens of federalist studies, the driving forces shaping the world economic system, with a special focus on the EU, including sustainable development challenges. During the third trimester, the programme concentrated on the EU and its relationship with Mediterranean and sub-Saharan countries, as well as EU relationships with Turkey, Central Asian, Caucasus and Black Sea countries.

The lectures and seminars are supplemented by a significant number of professional skills workshops, for instance on the tracking and analysis of EU law proposals, intercultural communication, negotiation skills and project cycle management. Following the leitmotif “Learning and living Europe”, the students rotate each term, moving their place of study from Berlin to Nice and then to Rome or Istanbul. In 2021, students could travel to the destinations as normally foreseen despite the pandemic. Most courses took place online.

Teaching Modules

- Conflict and Cooperation in the International System
- European Integration and External Action

Master in Global Energy Transition and Governance

Understanding the complexity of current energy transformations in Europe and worldwide

NICE BERLIN NICE

WORKING LANGUAGE English

About the Programme

The Master in Global Energy Transition and Governance aims to give a deep understanding of the complexity of the current energy transformations in Europe and worldwide. The programme analyses the links between the different levels of energy governance, from an international to a local level, offering problem-focused learning at the crossroads of theory and practice.

The objective of the Master is to enable the students to comprehend and analyse:

- 1) International energy governance, the various political changes in different states and the numerous conflicts addressing energy management, supply and distribution;
- 2) The EU's energy challenges and governance both in terms of fossil and renewable energies;
- 3) The transformations of national energy strategies towards low carbon economies;
- 4) Energy market evolutions; and
- 5) Regional and local low-carbon energy strategies.

These issues are at the crossroads of different disciplines of social sciences: political economics, economics, sociology and geography. Due to the pandemic, most courses took place online in Spring 2021.

In 2021, due to the pandemic, most courses took place online in Spring 2021. Nevertheless, the students were able to travel to Berlin, where lectures focused on energy challenges in different regions (Latin America, Central Asia, Russia) and different international energy conflicts, the writing of a city energy strategy, the energy market and EU energy policies.

Teaching Modules

- International Energy Governance and Conflicts
- Economic Energy Governance and Markets
- Clean Energy Transitions in the European Union
- Cities and Citizens in the Energy Transition Process
- Professional Skills and Methodology

Highlights in 2021

- Virtual visits to New Energy Forum Feldheim, a village that runs 100% on renewable energies and LEAG Welzow, a mining region.
- Virtual study trip to the European Energy Exchange (EEX)
- Virtual one-week study trip to Brussels with contributions and debates with nine energy specialists from the European Commission, European Parliament, private and public sector and advocacy groups. A virtual visit of the European Parliament was also organised.
- Hybrid simulation of negotiations on the East Mediterranean gas conflict with Mark Young, Rational Games.

ROME BERLIN NICE

ACADEMIC PARTNER	LUISS School of Government, Rome, Italy
CONTRIBUTING PARTNERS	OECD in Paris Potsdam Institute in Advanced Sustainability Studies Secretariat of the Euromed City Network, Nice Sustainable Finance Geneva Swiss Philanthropy Foundation, Geneva United Nations Conventions on Desertification, Bonn
WORKING LANGUAGE	English

About the Programme

The Master is realised in cooperation with the LUISS School of Government in Rome. The programme is focused on how to assess, manage and enhance private and public institutions' governance with a wide range of economic and digital intelligence tools.

The first term of the Master took place in Rome, under the academic responsibility of the LUISS School of Government.

During the term in Berlin, the module of Sustainable Development, the Way Forward? was covered. The future of economic governance in the EU was reviewed in the perspective of new ideas to deal with complex long-term issues such as demographic and climate changes. It discussed and assessed the way towards an innovative experience of transnational and interregional governance. Meetings with seasoned experts in governance were organised.

The Nice term was devoted to the Policy Intelligence module. Students studied the aspects of enhanced economic governance offered in a digital society and learnt how to transform economic data into policy knowledge. Practical knowledge was offered during workshops with international experts on "The Circular Economy" and "Failed States and Weak Governance".

In the cross-semester Applied Research module, students acquired skills in Global Risk Management, Intercultural Communication, Negotiation and the tracking and production of country risk reports in workshops at the crossroads of theory and practice for professional life.

Due to the pandemic, the programme took place almost exclusively online during the Berlin term and in hybrid form during the Nice term.

Highlights in 2021

- Case study: Geopolitics of Digitalisation: EU Third Way and the Relationship with the Global South
With Kerstin Fritzsche, Research Lead "Digitalisation" at Institute for Future Studies and Technology Assessment (IZT)
- Case study: The Informal Multilateralism in the G7 and G20 for Sustainable Development
With Florent Stora, Diplomatic French Representation at the OECD
- Virtual day-long webinar on "Failed States, Weak Institutions and Governance" with expert panelists
Watch the video.
- Virtual day-long workshop on "The Circular Economy" with experts from the European Commission and the French Ministry of Finance
- International Women's Day Event – with speakers from the European Ombudsman's Office, the EU Council of Ministers and the Schwarz Group

Joint Master in EU Trade and Climate Diplomacy

Learn to Lead and Represent the EU's New Diplomacy

ROME BERLIN NICE

ACADEMIC PARTNER	LUISS School of Government, Rome, Italy
CONTRIBUTING INSTITUTIONS	The European External Action Service, Brussels and Geneva OECD, Paris
WORKING LANGUAGE	English

About the Programme

The Master was realised for the first time, in cooperation with the LUISS School of Government in Rome. The programme focuses on how to act, reflect and participate in strategic trade and climate policy negotiations between Europe and other geopolitical powers, with a wide range of economic and digital intelligence tools..

The first term of the Master took place in Rome, under the academic responsibility of the LUISS School of Government and focussed on the topic of EU Governance.

During the term in Berlin about EU Climate Diplomacy, critical EU diplomacy and sustainable development relations in the context of the EU Green Deal and the Paris Agreement were reviewed in the perspective of new international bilateral and multilateral investment and trade agreements with complex long-term issues such as common climate, health and biodiversity policy and actions. Students investigated to what extent the EU has a strong political voice and expresses its economic power through its support of the 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development and the Paris Declaration and its political initiatives such as the Green Deal. Meetings with seasoned experts in EU economic diplomacy were organised.

In the Nice term about EU Trade Diplomacy students studied the new forms of cooperation agreements increasing connectivity and digital networks that may enable countries in their policy space to promote renewable energy, safeguard universal coverage of education and healthcare and pursue inclusive development goals. They discussed with EU experts how far digital services and networks, scientific knowledge and intellectual property rights in artificial intelligence and big data are the new frontier of globalisation and represent the most dynamically growing part of global exchanges. In practical case studies the students could experience the challenges of diplomatic negotiations on data, algorithms and AI within the context of the WTO.

In the cross-semester Applied Research module students attended specialised courses aimed at preparing them for their future professional engagement as well as the tracking and analysis of EU law proposals in workshops at the crossroads of theory and practice for a professional life.

Due to the pandemic, the programme took place almost exclusively online during the Berlin term and in hybrid form during the Nice term.

Highlights in 2021

- Virtual study trip to EU institutions in Brussels
- EU Climate Law Update with speakers from the European Parliament, EU Council Secretariat and DG Climate at the European Commission
- International Women's Day Event – with speakers from the European Ombudsman's Office, EU Council of Ministers and Schwarz Group
- Introduction to Innovative Forms of Collaborative Action in the Digital Society with speakers from Conscience Consulting
- Participation in an online debate with CIFE Honorary President Jean-Claude Juncker and CIFE President Herman Van Rompuy on Major European events. Watch the recording of the debate.
